WHO WE ARE

BIOME is a specialized data and digital hub within Novartis. We facilitate dynamic partnerships and collaborations that help deliver impactful healthcare solutions for better patient outcomes.

WHAT WE DO

We act as connectors and facilitators, and we bring the best ideas and the best capabilities to the table to help power healthcare innovation at scale in Canada.

CONNECT: Bringing the right capabilities to the table

We are helping to evolve the way we collaborate and co-create with one another and our partners. Armed with deep industry knowledge, we break silos, create meaningful connections, and fuel partnerships across ecosystems.

ACCELERATE: Driving progress at scale

We want to grow ideas and act as a catalyst to remove barriers and accelerate impact. We bring key stakeholders across health ecosystems, technology, and government to the table to identify efficiencies and fast-track scalable solutions.

COLLABORATE: Building the future together

We are the central front door for impactful digital collaborations. Bridging public and private institutions to build better data-driven solutions, we bring a 360 view that challenges the status quo and drives better results.

ACCESS: Leveraging industry know-how

We cultivate a culture of open knowledge sharing. Creating the environment to share expertise and ideas, we are an open forum for networking and learning.

We believe that by bringing the right expertise and capabilities to the table we can work together to challenge status quo and develop innovative solutions that will create a more efficient and connected healthcare system for Canadians.”
