Our corporate responsibility efforts focus in two areas: expanding access to healthcare and doing business responsibly. Our quarterly newsletter highlights the latest corporate responsibility news.

Please contact us at corporate.responsibility@novartis.com

IN THE NEWS

Discussing the future of access to healthcare in lower-income countries

Novartis Social Business hosted its 3rd annual dialogue event in Basel, bringing together a range of stakeholders to share their expertise, experience and personal stories.

Read more

New coalition to fight cancer in Ethiopia, Uganda and Tanzania

Novartis, the American Society for Clinical Pathology (ASCP) and the American Cancer Society (ACS) announced they will work together to devise a common approach to improve access to cancer treatment in Sub-Saharan Africa.

Read more

Punjab province in Pakistan signs agreement with Novartis Access against chronic diseases

Poor patients in the province of Punjab are to soon have free access to high-quality medicines from the Novartis Access portfolio targeting four key noncommunicable disease areas.

Read more

New partners and 3rd location announced for Better Hearts Better Cities

The Novartis Foundation announced that the CDC Foundation and American Heart Association are latest groups to join the initiative. São Paulo is also confirmed as the third city, starting in 2018.

Read more
New initiative to address poor health in disadvantaged schools in South Africa

Novartis Foundation launches Healthy Schools for Healthy Communities with the University of Basel and other partners.

Read more

Boosting the fight against pneumonia

Harald Nusser discusses how Novartis is working with Kenya to provide amoxicillin-dispersible tablets as a first-line treatment for children.

Read more

STORIES

Pioneering business approach expands healthcare in Indian villages

Healthy Family program, which combines health education with improved access to doctors and medicines, is still going strong, 10 years later.

Read more

Researchers overcome hurdles to test experimental malaria drug

In Mali, scientists are going to where the patients are in a bid to find a treatment for drug-resistant malaria.

Read more

OPINION & COMMENTARY

Three malaria experts offer their unique perspectives on the fight against malaria.

Malaria is preventable and curable, yet it is still kills thousands in developing countries. We have been working toward malaria elimination, but can’t do it alone. Watch what three experts have to say.

Sir Richard Feachem
Alan Court
Kelly Chibale
Malaria - We are at a turning point
Dr. Harald Nusser, Head of Novartis Social Business, comments on the state of the fight against malaria on the occasion of the publication of the WHO World Malaria Report.
Read more

Growing momentum in our efforts to address hypertension in Dakar, Senegal
At the beginning of November, Ann Aerts, Head of the Novartis Foundation, visited Dakar and took the opportunity to see the urban health initiative Better Hearts Better Cities in action.
Read more

10 Lessons We’ve Learned From AIDS That Can Be Applied To Chronic Diseases
A new epidemic of non-communicable diseases (NCDs) is rising in low- and middle-income countries just as the world is starting to get a handle on communicable diseases.
Read more

Recognizing our corporate volunteers
December 5 was International Volunteer Day. We want to recognize the contributions of those who use their skills to make a difference to society, the company and themselves each and every day.
Watch

AWARDS & RECOGNITION
CDP rates Novartis A on Water and A- in Climate in 2017
Novartis is one of 73 companies worldwide to make CDP’s Water A List in 2017. We also maintained an A- rating and are recognized among category leaders in healthcare in the 2017 CDP Climate Score.
Read more

This email was sent to you by Novartis.
Unsubscribe from this newsletter